TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 26, 1862.

Murders in Kansas

Mr W W Baker, merchant of this city, called at our office yesterday and showed us a letter which he has recently received from a friend in Kansas, conveying the sad intelligence of a most brutal murder perpetrated recently by a band of traitor guerrillas upon the person of his brother, Mr A I Baker who was a merchant at Oak Grove, Kansas. The party of marauders, composed of some half dozen or more, three of whom were recognized to be old acquaintances, and one a playmate in boyhood, came to Mr Baker's store at night, and requested to get a small article out of store. A boy was directed to go down into the cellar and get what was wanted and when he disappeared out of sight, the desperadoes made a sudden rush into the store and fired several shots at Mr Baker, who was alone, unprotected, and not anticipating anything of the kind. The boy, upon hearing the report, ran to the top of the cellar steps, when he too was shot through the abdomen, but fortunately made his escape through a back window, and lived twenty two hours afterwards. Mr. Baker was seen by the boy trying to get away, but the murderers closed in upon him and succeeded in killing him upon the spot. They then set fire to the premises and burnt everything. The body of Mr Baker was also consumed, except the lower extremities, which happened to get covered up by a large quantity of wheat, which had been stored above.

Mr. A I. Baker had been a resident of Kansas for several years past, was a lawyer by profession, had edited and published a newspaper in the Territory, and was, at the time of the Territorial trouble, a democrat, but was opposed to the Lecompton Constitution and refused to act with the Buchanan faction, who undertook to rule the country. When the rebellion broke out, Mr Baker was elected Captain, and afterwards Major, of the Home Guards, raised in that neighborhood and was also in the fight at Springfield, Mo., taken prisoner by the rebels, but soon after made his escape and returned home, only to meet with a most brutal and cowardly murder by a band of secesh desperadoes, organized by men whom he supposed had no hostility towards him.

This is but another instance among the many of the desperate and savage brutality manifested towards friends to the Union cause by murderous bands of secesh guerrillas who infest the country in remote and unprotected localities. We fear that many more innocent and helpless victims will yet fall by the hands of these desperadoes. Hanging is too good for them.

Sergeant W. W. Thompson.—We have been misled in regard to the political character of Sergeant Thompson by the Advertiser. We supposed that we might at least rely upon a statement made by the editor of that paper when he knew all the facts in the case. We understand from Sergeant Thompson that he was always a whig—never was a democrat—and that while J. L. Allison was a soldier in the army, he had many political controversies with him, at times so severe as to mar their personal intercourse. Sergeant Thompson says that under no circumstances could he, by possibility, be a democrat of the order of the Portland Advertiser. He is for the country and the Union without a condition.

Well Posted.—The Eugene City Register says:

"On the 1st of February, 1760, John P Hale, Senator from New Hampshire, presented a petition praying that 'some plan might be devised for the dissolution of the American Union.'"

That was a little more than sixteen years before the Declaration of Independence.

Thanks.—To the Register for wishing us such a long life, but our death will be marked with greater consequences than is hoped for by our secesh cotemporary.

From the Upper Columbia.—We take the following items from the Mountaineer of the 25th inst.

The steamer Spray was unable to start for Lewiston at the hour advertised, in consequence of the water being too low to admit her passing out of the creek where she lay. It was found necessary to discharge all her cargo, after which it was expected that she would get out without much difficulty, and make her promised trip.

Crazy Man.—Deputy Sheriff Hendrick went down on yesterday's boat to Portland, taking with him a crazy man, who was arrested last Sunday in the act of breaking the windows of Mr Clark's house, and generally behaving in a riotous manner.

Fire Engine.—Joseph Elfelt President of the Dalles Fire Company started yesterday morning for San Francisco to purchase a fire engine for the city.

The following is from the Walla Walla Statesman.

Shooting at Lewiston.—A shooting affair occurred in a saloon at Lewiston on Tuesday night, between gamblers, in which one man was shot and mortally wounded.

The Daily Delta calls New Orleans "the dismal region of frowning women."

Sam Houston's Son-in-Law

At a recent war meeting held in Boston Rev. Charles H. Clark was introduced to the [illegible] Boston Traveller:

Clark [illegible] to Houston, Texas. His remarks were [illegible] with difficulty on account of a bronchial disease from which he suffered. Clark is the son of the present rebel Governor of Texas, and son-in-law of General Sam Houston.

He [illegible] Houston [illegible] He labored [illegible] to the [illegible] of his country [illegible] Texas [illegible] State was [illegible] calling [illegible] Legislature [illegible] when the Union men were absent. Sam Houston, the Governor of the State, was [illegible] and the [illegible] He [illegible] Secessionists rose and gathered about him, but in violence [illegible] friends crowded around him and for a while nothing was heard but [illegible] and the clanking of knives. The speaker himself received a wound that would probably soon terminate his life. His father, who had [illegible] Lieutenant Governor, assumed the office of Governor of the State. Clark described at length how Texas was carried out of the Union by the treason of Twiggs and its direct effect on those who remained true to the Union. Men and women who, two years ago, were possessed of wealth and all the luxuries of life were now in the streets of Galveston begging for bread.

He said that if 5,000 troops should land at Galveston and march through Texas they would be joined by 10,000 men before reaching San Antonio.

Clark said he had been surprised since coming North to hear that it had been reported and believed that Governor Houston had given his adherence to secession. As his son-in-law and the one who closed his eyes in death, he stigmatized them as false. The old man was loyal to the day of his death. He took a violent cold at a meeting held by the Union men to protect themselves, which finally settled into pneumonia. About an hour before his death, he said, "Charlie, have you an American flag?" On being answered in the affirmative, "Bring it out," he said, "and spread it over me. I want to die under its glorious folds."

Among his last words he said, "I am sorry that it is the will of God that I cannot see that flag float again. Do you be faithful and true to it forever."

The speaker described his getting away from the power of the rebels, his reaching New Orleans, his interview with General Butler, whom he styled "the right man in the right place," but who threatened to hang him if he didn't get better vouchers for his loyalty than he first produced.

He had been a slaveholder all his life, but he was ready for emancipation, to sacrifice everything to sustain the Government. He described the barbarities he had seen the rebels perpetrate and contended that it was impossible to be too bitter against the rebels. There was no medium course. If we did not conquer them, they would conquer us. If the Southern Confederacy was acknowledged the war would be no nearer an end than it is now. It would not be until Toombs called the roll of his slaves at the foot of Bunker Hill. He believed the South could support more men in the field because of slavery to carry on their agriculture.

He denounced the rebels with great power, and with stirring eloquence called upon the men of Massachusetts to awake to the crisis.

The Affair at Baton Rouge—Breckinridge Loses his Right Arm.—A letter from Baton Rouge speaking of the recent rebel attack, says Nim's battery three times repulsed the foe with great slaughter. Breckinridge lost his right arm by a cannon shot. We captured a large number of prisoners, also took three guns. The enemy's loss must be severe, as our men charged and recharged on them. The battle was fought on the edge of the town, as General Williams was unwilling to expose the women and children. General Williams was killed by a rifle ball. Another account says the rebels were estimated at five or six thousand. The combat was obstinate. Our loss was 250 killed, including a large proportion of officers. The rebel loss, according to prisoners' statements, was immense. The fight lasted four hours. The official report of the affair says our forces were forced to retire about a quarter of a mile from their original position, and the enemy temporarily occupied the camps of three of our regiments and destroyed much of the baggage and camp equipage. They were however driven out, but the men being much exhausted and our numbers lessened by sickness, it was deemed expedient not to pursue. The enemy retired several miles and are still retreating. Reinforcements have arrived. Our force engaged was less than 2,500. The enemy had at least 5,000, with twelve or fourteen field pieces and some cavalry. Breckinridge, on the 6th, asked permission to bury his dead. A passenger from Baton Rouge says our loss was 70 killed and 215 wounded. Gen Williams had three horses shot under him before he was killed.

Reward for Discovery of a Gold Field on Vancouver Island.—Governor Douglas has issued the following proclamation:

"That to any person or persons who shall first discover a profitable gold field within the colony of Vancouver Island, and make known and describe to the Colonial Government the site and limits of the tract of land comprised in his or their discovery, there shall be paid the sum of £1,000, provided the money received for licenses issued for working the said tract of land be equal to that amount, and provided always that there shall have been proved to the satisfaction of the local Government that there has been bona fide raised and produced from the said tract or field within two months of the issue of the said licenses an amount of gold equal in value to not less than £10,000."

The Stamp Currency.—The Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury have had almost daily consultations on the stamp currency. It seemed difficult to decide the question of jurisdiction. Recently however a compromise has been effected between the two Departments, viz: The Post Office Department is to order and prepare the stamps and deliver them to the Treasury Department for distribution. They are to be of all denominations, from one to thirty cents. The engraving is being done in New York, and Blair expects to have some ready for use on or about the 10th proximo.

In searching a stable for concealed arms recently a detective, among a variety of weapons, found under the floor the elegant sword of presentation to "Old Rough and Ready," by the State of Kentucky. It will be sent to General Taylor, Commissary General of the United States Army, and a brother of the gallant hero of the Mexican war.

Monday last McCall's Division received orders to strike tents and prepare six days' rations and be ready to move at a moment's notice. At nine o'clock the same night the whole Division embarked for Aquia Creek via Fortress Monroe, it is supposed.

An order was received that no vessel with supplies should proceed further than Fortress Monroe.

Philadelphia, August 19th.—The correspondent of the Inquirer from Fortress Monroe, August 17th, says the army were crossing the Chickahominy yesterday by means of pontoon bridges 2,000 feet long. By observation this morning I find that with few exceptions, our entire fleet have arrived here, so I may say our entire fleet is safe.

St. Louis, Aug. 19th.—Passengers by the Pacific railroad report that on Friday night occurred twenty miles south of Lexington, between a portion of Col. Philip Crittenden's regiment of State troops 800 strong, and 3000 guerrillas under Quantrell and other guerrilla chiefs, resulting in the defeat of the State forces, with a loss of 200 killed and wounded, and two pieces of artillery.

New York, Aug. 19th.—Sterling exchange 127@127½. Gold [illegible] Bars nominal.

Memphis, Aug. 16.—Reports from White river say Gen. Hovey's division had a fight on Monday last near Clarendon, Arkansas. The Federal force was composed of six regiments of infantry, and the rebel of eight regiments of cavalry, with a part of Hindman's brigade. The battle raged fiercely some time, with destructive effect on both sides, resulting in the defeat and rout of the rebels. Seven hundred prisoners were taken. There are no further particulars.

New York, Aug. 18.—Letters from Baton Rouge say the ram Arkansas grounded at the distance of six miles from the city, Aug. 6. She was engaged by the Essex in a fair and up fight, Porter, Commander. The Essex lay 400 yards distant from the Arkansas, pouring shell and shot into her, until a breach was made, when an incendiary shell exploded in the breach, setting her on fire. The rebel crew then left. She shortly afterward exploded. The rebels say Gen. Ruggles was killed and they state their loss at 800. The secessionists of Baton Rouge fired on our wounded as they were brought through the [illegible]. Consequently their houses were pulled down.

Washington, August 18.—Troops under the last call are already reaching their destination at the rate of 5,000 per day. Within the present week the daily number will be largely increased.

A camp of instruction for fifty thousand men has been established here. Over three hundred army officers have been stricken from the rolls under the late stringent order.

Louisville, August 17.—Beriah Magoffin has resigned his Governorship. James Robinson, Speaker of the Senate, a strong Union man, becomes Governor de facto for the unexpired term.

The troops in General Butler's division after their recent payment sent home to the North the sum of 180,000 by express, in addition to the large amounts forwarded by Major Whitehall, the allotment agent of the State of Maine, and by private parties.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

The DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Barrett's, Front street

ALARM.—An alarm of fire was raised [illegible]terday afternoon, originating, as we learn, from a large fire in the woods West of the city. A gentleman by the name of Smith, had a large quantity of cord wood in the [illegible] which was liable to be destroyed by the [illegible] and had sent for Company No 2 to come to his assistance with their engine. In order to get the Company together, the bell at their [illegible] was rung, whereupon the whole [illegible] turned out, and made a gallant [illegible] their engines. Just at this moment [illegible] of smoke burst forth from Mr [illegible] furnace on First street, and in less [illegible] it takes to tell it, No. 2's had their [illegible] upon the spot, and in two minutes would have poured forth a drenching [illegible] of water upon the furnace and spoiled [illegible], had not Mr Monastes rushed out [illegible] them to desist. "One's" took [illegible] run around a few blocks and returned, [illegible] "Two's" struck out for the woods. In [illegible] five minutes another alarm was [illegible] by ringing No 1's bell, and in a few [illegible] they also struck for the woods, having [illegible] sent for in haste. We learn that no [illegible] was lost, or other damage sustained, [illegible] to the extraordinary and commendable [illegible] of the fire companies, who labored [illegible]antly for four hours in extin[illegible] the flames.

[illegible]VAL OF STEAMSHIP OREGON.—The steamship [illegible] arrived at Couch's Wharf last [illegible] at four o'clock, from San Francisco [illegible]. We are indebted to a friend for [illegible]ing list of passengers and manifest:

[illegible] Misses C McLean, H Bryant, L Dines, H [illegible], Mrs Birnbaum, S McCormick, Dodge, [illegible] Rosa Carter, Mrs Rickton, W H Mills, Mrs [illegible] family, J Scott, S Levi, N Archibald, Dr C P [illegible], M Baird, H F Rendle, Rev McMonnie, [illegible] Stein, Livingston, P J Dunero and family,

[illegible]—Allen & Lewis, A Cohn & Co, Bonn & [illegible] & McCracken, Gump, Bills & Co, Daubenan [illegible] Parker & Bros., C H Wyer, C H Keller Cohn, [illegible] Bros & Bro., E J Northrup & Co, E Behee, [illegible] D Mackay, Failing & Hatt, Goldsmith [illegible], H Tewitt, H Law, H Hayman, H [illegible]ston, Wilson & Co., Hess & Bro, H W [illegible] & Oalef, Jacoll & Bro, J D H Inman, J F [illegible] Foster & Co, J L Parrish & Co, J Kahn & [illegible] J M Mansfield, J M Cormick, D Wel[illegible], Mayer & Co, Kingsley & Rowe, P Sellin[illegible], Meyer & Co, Walker & Bro, Well Bro, and

[illegible]LIMENTARY.—We learn that the passengers by the steamer Maria, which arrived [illegible] from the Cascades, had unanimously signed a complimentary note, expressing [illegible] satisfaction with the genteel [illegible] and excellent fare obtained on [illegible] while on their trip down, [illegible] the boat generally, but owing to the politeness of an (un)worthy cotem[illegible] lied to remain on board [illegible] unable to publish the [illegible]

[illegible] received no later [illegible], as our telegraphic dis[illegible] with considerable later [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co. [illegible] us with files on this occasion [illegible] we have received the latest dates [illegible] sources, and hope in future that [illegible] will not be so very fastidious.

[illegible].—We are pleased to announce [illegible] City Carrier, Mr. Parrish, [illegible] from his severe indisposition, [illegible] again attend to, the delivery of [illegible] morning upon the route for[illegible] by him, and if any person [illegible] OREGONIAN left at any particular [illegible] requested to inform him of the [illegible] papers will be delivered accord[illegible]

[illegible] was granted yesterday by [illegible] Military Band, on board the [illegible] had come over on a pleasure [illegible] that post. The Band dis[illegible] music on the occasion and [illegible] in good order. We hope to see and [illegible] again.

[illegible] The steamer Oregon will sail for [illegible] direct to-morrow (Wednesday) [illegible] at four o'clock.

[illegible]—The Alida arrived last evening [illegible] a considerable number of passengers, [illegible] hundred pounds of gold dust per [illegible]'s Express, to whom we [illegible] for late Upper Columbia [illegible] and numerous favors.

[illegible] Our city was quite lively last [illegible] much more so than usual, owing [illegible] to the fact of a very large number [illegible] per steamship Oregon, which, we [illegible] near 400 passengers on board, [illegible] were from Victoria, bound for [illegible]

[illegible]FICATION.—We heard last evening that [illegible] gentlemen recently drafted in the U S [illegible] had a jolly time around town, [illegible] departure for the seat of war.

[illegible] Post Offices have been established a[illegible], Marion county, Oregon, C. L. Rentus [illegible]ter; and Alma, Chehalis county, W [illegible] Waldrip, Postmaster. The office [illegible] Prairie, Douglas county, Oregon, has been discontinued.

[illegible]sions have come on for William F [illegible], Osceola, Washington county, Oregon, and Edward E. Kelly, Wallepta, Walla Wal[illegible], Washington Territory.

[illegible] Cornell has been appointed Post[illegible] for Port Orford, Curry county, Oregon.

The European supply of cotton on the 1st of June was only 426,037 bales, last year [illegible], showing a deficit of 1,216,968 [illegible]. If a new supply is not very soon ob[illegible], it is obvious that the cotton factories of [illegible] must generally stop working.

[illegible]FIELD, Mo., August 13th,—Major [illegible] drove Coffey's band of guerillas out of [illegible]ville Monday night, and attack[illegible] at Stockton Tuesday morning, killing and wounding quite a number and putting the balance to flight.

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys, and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug5 4m&w

SECOND THOUGHTS ON A REBEL.—The Memphis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes that soon after the fall of Fort Donelson it became apparent that the days of the Confederate rule in Memphis were numbered, and the most rabid secesh of negro-phobic rebels began to discuss the propriety of burning the town on the approach of the Yankees. Among those who pledged themselves that we should find nothing but a mammoth ash heap, was J. G. Greenlaw, owner of several houses in different parts of the city. He visited one of his tenants, a Main street storekeeper, and told him to be in readiness to leave at three days' notice, to have his stock all packed up, prepared for a speedy transfer to some other house. The tenant inquired the object of such an announcement. Mr. Greenlaw said he intended to burn every house he had rather than let the [illegible] Yankee Abolitionists get hold of them. The tenant said he would comply with the landlord's request.

When the news of the evacuation of Fort Pillow reached Memphis, the storekeeper, who had sold out nearly all he had, boxed up his remaining stock, and called on Mr. Greenlaw to tell him his property was ready for the torch process.

"You'll find some turpentine and shavings in the cellar, and all you'll have to do is to set it going," said the storekeeper.

"The hell you say," said Mr. G.

"Yes sir, it is all ready. You can keep it from the Yankees, sure, if you want to," said the tenant complacently.

"Well, I guess I ain't dd fool enough to burn my own house," returned the landlord.

"But I thought you told me you intended to burn it when the Yankees came," said the tenant.

"I've changed my mind since," replied Mr. G.

I understand that the identical store above referred to is now rented from Mr. Greenlaw to a Cincinnati merchant, who has established a Yankee notion store here.

NOBLE WORDS FROM MARYLAND.—The proclamation of Gov. Bradford, of Maryland, in response to the President's last requisition for troops, is a noble document. Here is an extract from it that ought to shame the peace palterers and bogus democrats of California and Oregon:

"The one great, paramount object which the patriotic everywhere have in view, and which with us, in Maryland, should, and I am sure does, outweigh and nearly extinguish all other considerations, is the restoration of the Union. While among those professing the same object, there may be found in some places a comparatively small class, anxious to combine with it other and ulterior views of a selfish and sinister character, we have in our own State, I fear, a still more dangerous class—secret sympathizers with secession, who, by the exaggerated importance they constantly seek to attach to these factious movements, and their affected fears of these ulterior purposes, are in fact seeking only by such means to undermine the great cause we have at heart, and to paralyze the arm we are prepared to raise in its defense. Against these insidious attempts let us be on our guard: let us bear in mind that the great impending peril, by which all other perils are eclipsed, is this rebellion, that it is to be put down; put down by force of arms, at whatever cost and regardless of all other considerations. That once subdued, the nation thereby rescued, and the Union restored, we need have no fear for its future preservation, or the renovated vigor of our existing Constitution. The mighty masses of our population having themselves achieved this success, and mindful of the experience of the past, will be sure to provide for its security in the future, while the very last whose influence need be feared in this national regeneration, will be the sectional agitator and demagogue, who will serve hereafter only as a beacon to warn us from the breakers where we have been so nearly wrecked. Let the loyal men of Maryland, then, remembering only the great stake they have in the Union, and that their loyal position subjects them to the first shock of its assailants, prepare to take a corresponding position in the front rank of its defenders. Let no collateral considerations distract their councils. Let no pretended caution against comparative dangers, ingeniously magnified and whispered in our ears by rebel sympathizers, suspend for a moment our determined purpose to restore the Union and crush the rebellion—the only danger that now threatens it."

A SCANDINAVIAN KINGDOM.—A thousand students from Sweden and Norway lately visited Copenhagen, and were received with applause. It is a significant fact. The idea of a Scandinavian Empire, impossible while Russia was active, has, in her quiescence of late, been strongly revived. It is the pet idea of King Oscar, and has found favor in Denmark. Copenhagen, jealous of her position, has now been the principal obstacle, and now, Copenhagen applauds. The King of Denmark is childless; France it is said consents; Prussia would be content with Holstein, and England has no opposition to make.

THE ADVANTAGE OF BUYING GOODS ON CREDIT.—In one of the interior villages of Wisconsin is a tavern-keeper, and in the same place an honest old German blacksmith, of whom the former relates that he employed him to do some iron work, and paid him cash for it at the time; but, afterwards learning that a neighbor had some similar work done one time for a less price, he inquired the reason, and the reply was as follows: "You zee I've zo much scharge on my book, and I zometimes loze um; and zo ven I've a goot cash customer I charge goot price (but ven I puts it on my book I do not like to scharge so much, so if he never pay um I no lose so much."

There is a touching beauty in the radiant look of a girl just crossing the limits of youth and commencing her journey through the checkered space of womanhood. It is all dew sparkle and morning-glory to her ardent, buoyant spirit as she presses forward exulting in blissful anticipations. But the withering heat of the conflict of life creeps on; the dew-drops exhale; the garlands hope, shattered and dead, strew the path; and too often ere noon-tide, the brow and sweet smile are exchanged for the weary look of one longing for the evening rest, the twilight and the night.

A FRENCH FIRE-KING.—A curious exhibition takes place every evening at the corner of the Rue Ville Just and the Avenue de St. Cloud. In a small field there is situated a wooden house, covered with pitch and other combustible matters, which is erected daily, and set fire to at about 8 o'clock each evening. The flames in the course of a few moments reach a gigantic height; and when they are most ardent, a man jumps into the midst of them, rolls about and pulls down blazing rafters, which he carries away. This salamander can stay in the fire from five to seven minutes. When he comes out the clothes which enabled him to do so smoke like a steam engine; they are said to be made of asbestos, covered with sponges freshly imbued in some chemical preparation.—Paris Letter.

COME TO THIS AT LAST.—The Avalanche of Memphis starts a report that the rebel leaders have solemnly determined, in the last emergency, to apply to Great Britain or France to be received as colonies.

A PATRIOTIC FAMILY.—The late Colonel Samuel Wylie Black of the Sixty-second Pennsylvania regiment, killed in one of the battles before Richmond, was a member of a family represented by seven or eight of its number at the recent battle on the Peninsula. A brother of the Colonel, William Black, was connected with the same regiment, and two of his nephews, lads of seventeen and nineteen years, were privates in Sickle's brigade. The two young men, sons of the late Rev. Andrew W. Black, D. D., left their widowed mother at the commencement of the rebellion, enlisting in a company of picked young men from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and coming to this city to join the brigade of Sickles, in order to get immediately upon the battle field. Col. Black and Gen. Crawford of Fort Sumter fame, were cousins, both named after the Rev. Dr. Samuel Wylie, President of the University of Pennsylvania, and all of them sons of clergymen of the Old School Presbyterian denomination. Colonel Black while Governor of Nebraska, was for a long time an intimate acquaintance of General Beauregard. Their families resided in the same vicinity, and were on terms of intimate friendship. They both left Nebraska early in 1861; their next meeting was on the battle-field. Colonel Black was an out and out Union man, fighting bravely for the old flag. His dying words, distinctly uttered, were, "On! my brave fellows—on!" His body is in the hands of the rebels.—New York Evening Post.

WHOLESALE DESERTION.—Fourteen sailors belonging to H. M. ship Bacchante took one of her boats about twelve o'clock on Saturday night, and made for the American side. The Grappler was dispatched in pursuit but without success.—Victoria Press.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—[illegible] I do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my [illegible] [illegible]. Now that you know what I expected, you may [illegible] the complete recovery from all those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions which were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greater, my [illegible] or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

[illegible] twenty dollars over your charge, and thank you [illegible]. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Respectfully yours, THOMAS HARDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

SECOND THOUGHTS OF A REBEL.—The Memphis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes that soon after the fall of Fort Donelson it became apparent that the days of the Confederate rule in Memphis were numbered, and the more rapid success of the-rophobia rebels began to discuss the propriety of burning the town on the approach of the Yankees. Among those who pledged themselves that we should find nothing but a mammoth ash heap, was J. O. Greenlaw, owner of several houses in different parts of the city. He visited one of his tenants, a Main street storekeeper, and told him to be in readiness to leave at three days' notice, to have his stock all packed up, prepared for a speedy transfer to some other house. The tenant inquired the object of such a "movement." Mr Greenlaw said he intended to burn every house he had rather than let the d——d Yankee Abolitionists get hold of them. The tenant said he would comply with the landlord's request.

When the news of the evacuation of Fort Pillow reached Memphis, the storekeeper, who had sold out nearly all he had, boxed up his remaining stock, and called on Mr. Greenlaw to tell him his property was ready for the torch process.

"You'll find some turpentine and shavings in the cellar, and all you'll have to do is to set it going," said the storekeeper.

"The hell you say," said Mr. G.

"Yes sir, it is all ready. You can keep it from the Yankees, sure, if you want to," said the tenant complacently.

"Well, I guess I ain't d—d fool enough to burn my own house," returned the landlord.

"But I thought you told me you intended to burn it when the Yankees came," said the tenant.

"I've changed my mind since," replied Mr. G.

I understand that the identical store above referred to is now rented from Mr. Greenlaw to a Cincinnati merchant, who has established a Yankee notion store here.

NOBLE WORDS FROM MARYLAND.—The proclamation of Gov. Bradford, of Maryland, in response to the President's last requisition for troops, is a noble document. Here is an extract from it that ought to shame the peace palterers and bogus democrats of California and Oregon:

"The one great, paramount object which the patriotic everywhere have in view, and which with us, in Maryland, should, and I am sure does, outweigh and nearly extinguish all other considerations, is the restoration of the Union. While among those professing the same object, there may be found in some places a comparatively small class, anxious to combine with it other and ulterior views of a selfish and sinister character, we have in our own State, I fear, a still more dangerous class—secret sympathizers with secession, who, by the exaggerated importance they constantly seek to attach to these factious movements, and their affected fears of these ulterior purposes, are in fact seeking only by such means to undermine the great cause we have at heart, and to paralyze the arm we are prepared to raise in its defense. Against these insidious attempts let us be on our guard; let us bear in mind that the great impending peril, by which all other perils are eclipsed, is this rebellion, that it is to be put down; put down by force of arms, at whatever cost and regardless of all other considerations. That once subdued, the nation thereby rescued, and the Union restored, we need have no fear for its future preservation, or the renovated vigor of our [illegible] Constitution. The mighty masses of our population having themselves achieved this success, and mindful of the experience of the past, will be sure to provide for its security in the future, while the very last whose influence need be feared in this national regeneration, will be the sectional agitator and demagogue, who will serve hereafter only as a beacon to warn us from the breakers where we have been so nearly wrecked. Let the loyal men of Maryland, then, remembering only the great stake they have in the Union, and that their loyal position subjects them to the first shock of its assailants, prepare to take a commanding position in the front rank of its defenders. Let no collateral considerations distract their councils. Let no pretended caution against comparative dangers, ingeniously magnified and whispered in our ears by rebel sympathizers, suspend for a moment our determined purpose to restore the Union and crush the rebellion—the only danger that now threatens it."

A SCANDINAVIAN KINGDOM.—A thousand students from Sweden and Norway lately visited Copenhagen, and were received with applause. It is a significant fact. The idea of a Scandinavian Empire, impossible while Russia was active, has, in her quiescence of late, been strongly revived. It is the pet idea of King Oscar, and has found favor in Denmark. Copenhagen, jealous of her position, has now been the principal obstacle, and now, Copenhagen applauds. The King of Denmark is childless; France it is said consents Prussia would be content with Holstein, and England has no opposition to make.

THE ADVANTAGE OF BUYING GOODS ON CREDIT.—In one of the interior villages of Wisconsin is a tavern-keeper, and in the same place an honest old German blacksmith, of whom the former relates that he employed him to do some iron work, and paid him cash for it at the time; but, afterwards learning that a neighbor had some similar work done one time for a less price, he inquired the reason, and the reply was as follows: "You zee I've so much scharge on my book, and I zometimes lose um; and zo ven I've a goot cash customer I charge goot price; but ven I puts it on my book I do not like to scharge so much, so if he never pay um I no lose so much."

There is a touching beauty in the radiant look of a girl just crossing the limits of youth and commencing her journey through the checkered space of womanhood. It is all dew sparkle and morning-glory to her ardent, buoyant spirit as she presses forward exulting in blissful anticipations. But the withering heat of the conflict of life creeps on; the dewdrops exhale; the garlands hope, shattered and dead, strew the path; and too often ere noontide, the brow and sweet smile are exchanged for the weary look of one longing for the evening rest, the twilight and the night.

A FRENCH FIRE-KING.—A curious exhibition takes place every evening at the corner of the Rue Ville Just and the Avenue de St. Cloud. In a small field there is situated a wooden house, covered with pitch and other combustible matters, which is erected daily, and set fire to at about 8 o'clock each evening. The flames in the course of a few moments reach a gigantic height, and when they are most ardent, a man jumps into the midst of them, rolls about and pulls down blazing rafters, which he carries away. This salamander can stay in the fire from five to seven minutes. When he comes out the clothes which enabled him to do so smoke like a steam engine; they are said to be made of asbestos, covered with sponges freshly imbued in some chemical preparation.—Paris Letter.

COME TO THIS AT LAST.—The Avalanche of Memphis starts a report that the rebel leaders have solemnly determined, in the last emergency, to apply to Great Britain or France to be received as colonies.

A PATRIOTIC FAMILY.—The late Colonel Samuel Wylie Black of the Sixty second Pennsylvania regiment, killed in one of the battles before Richmond, was a member of a family represented by seven or eight of its number at the recent battles on the Peninsula. A brother of the Colonel, William Black, was connected with the same regiment, and two of his nephews, lads of seventeen and nineteen years, were privates in Sickle's brigade. The two young men, sons of the late Rev. Andrew W. Black, D. D., left their widowed mother at the commencement of the rebellion, enlisting in a company of picked young men from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and coming to this city to join the brigade of Sickles in order to get immediately upon the battle field. Col. Black and Gen. Crawford (of Fort Sumter fame,) were cousins, both named after the Rev. Dr. Samuel Wylie, President of the University of Pennsylvania, and all of them sons of clergymen of the Old School Presbyterian denomination. Colonel Black while Governor of Nebraska, was for a long time an intimate acquaintance of General Beauregard. Their families resided in the same vicinity, and were on terms of intimate friendship.—They both left Nebraska early in 1861; their next meeting was on the battle-field. Colonel Black was an out and out Union man, fighting bravely for the old flag. His dying words, distinctly uttered, were, "On! my brave fellows—on!" His body is in the hands of the rebels.—New York Evening Post.

WHOLESALE DESERTION.—Fourteen sailors belonging to H. M. ship Bacchante took one of her boats about twelve o'clock on Saturday night, and made for the American side. The Grappler was dispatched in pursuit but without success.—Victoria Press.

D. late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pain in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—unfailing to prevent discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stage of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physician, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self Abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health.

The afflicted would do well to reflect that the standing of an institution established upon principles and sanctioned by thousands [illegible] Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of parties of [illegible] in the [illegible] Private Institute [illegible] health and [illegible] by gratitude [illegible] the letters were [illegible] and [illegible] authenticated by a Notary Public [illegible] imperiously [illegible] to the perusal of the afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned [illegible] those who may be unfortunate enough [illegible] relief where a permanent relief [illegible] I claim it a duty to thus publicly express my most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. State of California, County of San Francisco, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me this [illegible] day of April A D 1860.

[L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June [illegible]

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but am on with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect since I called at your institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken utterly and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head and strengthen my [illegible] so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat and the entire stopping of those emissions which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully [illegible] I feel as well as any man can feel.

I inclose [illegible] twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the Incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which having taken my ability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it soon became such (I [illegible]) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning; and although inaccessible to the spasms, I yet despaired the [illegible] of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid from a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician whom every confidence can be placed.

MEYER YABLONSKY.
